

CTC Robertson
presents a screening of award-winning documentary

Ticketyboo

written & directed by Renée Brack

Ticketyboo is a deeply moving, heartfelt personal exploration of dementia, told with gentle humour. This award winning documentary, written and directed by journalist Renée Brack, investigates her father's experience of the illness and her own fraught and complicated response to it, alongside the implications it may hold for her future. The film - 82 minutes - will be introduced by Renée and she will return at the end for a Q&A session.

Both heart-warming and heartwrenching, Renée Brack stalks the spectre of dementia like a wryly humorous detective unlocking its mysteries for anyone young or old.

Wednesday 13 March 10.30am-12.30pm

(Cafe opens at 10am for purchase of refreshments)

CTC Robertson 58-60 Hoddle Street Robertson

Bookings essential

<https://www.trybooking.com/COATT>

or call 4885 2665

Cost - Free

This screening is part of the NSW Seniors Festival 2024 and has been kindly sponsored by Harbison

Trigger Warning

This film explores dementia, death of a parent, grief & brief medical procedures

Find out more about all free Seniors Festival Events at CTC at www.robertsonctc.org.au/seniorsfestival.html

